

LAW LIBRARY FACULTY MEETING
Minutes
Thursday, September 16, 2010

The law librarians met for the first time this year, and to meet with the new deputy director of the library, Brian Barnes. We discussed several areas of the library and all of our duties to familiarize him with the library and us. The bylaws and the faculty handbook were mentioned as well. It was a good introduction and gave Brian a chance to ask questions and to learn about the library and the law school.

Etheldra Scoggin had been elected to the University Senate last spring to represent us, and she reported on the first meeting. We usually meet each year in the fall to discuss rank and tenure applications, however, there were none to consider this year. The meeting was adjourned.
