General Law Core Courses

LAW-L710 Torts II (@) 2 hrs.
Students will continue the study of the legal standards that must be met in order to obtain relief for tortious conduct and the justifications for those standards, and students will also examine in greater depth the types of relief that may be available (i.e., “damages”). Students will be able to study this area of the law at a higher level of analytical sophistication based upon the strong foundational understanding acquired in Torts I. By the end of this second portion of the course, you should be able to: (a) analyze a torts problem in terms of more doctrinal categories; and (b) appreciate the process by which those doctrinal categories might have evolved, including especially doctrinal considerations, policy arguments, socioeconomic and cultural changes, and developments in technology and scientific knowledge.

For the Spring 2024 semester, this course is being offered to current 1L students only as a possible elective, as there will be very few seats available. Due to curriculum changes, students beginning in the Fall of 2021 will take Torts II as a requirement in their 3L year (if not already taken as a 1L elective).

LAW-L730 Civil Procedure II 2 hrs.
In this course, students will continue their study of issues related to the federal court system from Civil Procedure I, including some or all of the following: joinder of claims and parties, discovery, adjudication without trial, alternative dispute resolution, functions of the judge and jury, appellate review, and the binding effect of judgments. Material includes select provisions of the U.S. Constitution, federal statutes, federal rules, and case interpretations of these provisions, as well as ethical standards and considerations.
LAW-L740 Constitutional Criminal Procedure (@) 3 hrs.
A detailed exploration of criminal practice and procedure including constitutional limitations of law enforcement and the rights of individuals in areas such as search and seizure, arrest, electronic surveillance, self-incrimination, exclusionary rules, right to counsel, and custodial interrogation as contained in the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution.

LAW-L746 Business Organizations I 3 hrs.
This course is an introduction to the fundamental legal principles governing agency and fiduciary relationships, unincorporated business associations, and corporations. Among the topics covered are: 1) the formation, operation, and dissolution of partnerships, limited liability companies, and corporations (both privately-held and publicly-held); 2) the distribution of powers among the owners and managers of such organizations; and 3) the relative advantages of various organizational forms.

LAW-L765 Lawyering II (*) 3 hrs.
This course builds on Lawyering I in teaching legal document drafting skills and problem-solving techniques. A significant portion of the course will be devoted to the preparation of an appellate brief and the oral argument of the case on appeal. Completion of the prescribed brief and participation in oral arguments are mandatory requirements.
Prerequisite: LAW-L715 Lawyering I
* Students completing the course earn three hours of experiential learning credits.

LAW-L766 Principles of Legal Analysis 3 hrs.
Intensive instruction in legal methodology and analysis through more individualized instruction than generally provided in most law school courses and in coordination with other first-year courses, working with problems and issues raised by first-year courses (civil procedure, contracts, torts, criminal law, or property). Students will complete numerous written exercises that will provide the basis for evaluating their current performance and prescribing goals and methods of improvement. Enrollment in this course will be limited per section to all faculty teaching this course to give the expected intensive feedback on the individual written exercises.

LAW-L770 Lawyering III (Ethics) (@) 3 hrs.
This course concerns the professional and ethical activities and duties of the lawyer. The course includes a study of the history and traditions of the legal profession, including the concept of self-discipline and the model rules of professional responsibility. It also examines the impact of ethics and tradition on the practice of the lawyer.
For the Spring 2024 semester, students have the option to take the MPRE or a final exam. MPRE Registration Deadline: January 25, 2024; MPRE Test Dates: March 26, 2024, and March 27, 2024; deadline to request any accommodations for the March 2024 test: December 5, 2023. Please check your jurisdiction requirements for test scores HERE.
*Note: Lawyering II is NOT a prerequisite for this course. Students interested in participating in Clinical Seminar are advised they will need to have completed Lawyering III prior to starting Clinical Seminar.
General Law Electives (LAW)

LAW-L781 Law and Poverty († @) 2 hrs.
This course provides an introduction to the detrimental effects of poverty on society and poor people. It includes a treatment of the history of institutional response to the needs of the economically disadvantaged in the Western world. It involves a critical examination of the legal system’s response to the economic, social, and human problems of poverty, particularly in the fields of social security, welfare, unemployment, and worker’s compensation. Special treatment is given to legislative and judicial initiatives in alleviating poverty as it burdens the family, women, and minorities.
† This course satisfies the Law and Poverty Requirement.

Some people come to law school hoping they will learn how to use the tools of law to transform and restructure the world in order to make our world a more just place. This course is designed to introduce students to the ways in which lawyers committed to social justice engage with communities, individual clients, social and political causes and legal systems to help effect social change. In the course, we will examine different models of social justice lawyering, including direct representation of people in civil and criminal courts, impact litigation, policy and legislative advocacy, lawyering with and against the government, movement lawyering and more to show the many ways that lawyers can work with others toward social justice. Because this is a seminar, each student will be required to submit a paper for part of the final grade. Class participation will be part of the grade, as will occasional short reflection papers. Students completing this course satisfy the Law and Poverty Requirement. This course has a priority to 1L’s as an elective.
† This course satisfies the Law and Poverty Requirement.

This course introduces the basic principles of the European Community Law and the institutional structure of the communities with particular reference to the case law of the Court of Justice of the European Community.

LAW-L812 Creditors’ Rights and Bankruptcy (@) 3 hrs.
This course examines the problems of the debtor who does not pay his debts. The study includes processes available to the creditor for collection, competition among multiple creditors for the assets of the debtor, means of affecting a distribution of the debtor’s assets among his creditors, means of rehabilitating the debtor, and the debtor’s right to some measure of protection. More than half of the course is devoted to a study of the Bankruptcy Act since all aspects of the creditor/debtor problem are colored by the interaction of state-created rights and the federal bankruptcy provisions.

LAW-L817 Mediation and Arbitration (⋆ #) 3 hrs.
This course is a survey of the various dispute resolution processes including mediation, arbitration, the mini-trial, and the summary jury trial. The overall objectives are to give students familiarity with these processes, basic skills in using them, and experience in how to help a client choose the most appropriate dispute resolution process. The class will include lectures, demonstrations, discussions, and simulations. In some years, the course may be taught as a seminar, where written work satisfying the writing requirement will replace a final examination. Students completing the course earn three experiential learning credits.

* Students completing the course earn three hours of experiential learning credits.
Students completing the course earn one skills credit, specifically SKR2 (or general skills credit if SKR2 is already satisfied).

LAW-L820 Employment Discrimination (©) 3 hrs.
This course surveys the various kinds of employment discrimination and the statutes, constitutional provisions, and Executive Orders that govern the rights and remedies available to employees who are subjected to discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age, and disability.

LAW-L825 Medical Malpractice (©) 3 hrs.
This course deals with the substantive and procedural aspects of medical malpractice. Through an examination of statutory and case law, combined with skills exercises, this course covers topics such as medical negligence, standard of care, causation, informed consent, respondeat superior, liability among providers, agency issues, and peer review.

LAW-L827 Contracts/Commercial Law Seminar: 2 hrs.
Government Contract Law in the 21st Century
This is a two-hour weekly class survey course in lecture and/or seminar format of the many issues involved in federal contract law, not contract law in general. Federal procurements boast of a multi-hundred billion-dollar marketplace annually. State-run procurements often are modeled after the federal sector and add to this value. Bid protests, contract changes, special clauses in the Federal Acquisition Regulation, contract terminations, and claims are covered. Class attendance and participation (10%) are required. Normally, a take-home exam option is used for final grading (90%). Tulane and Loyola students are invited to register. Loyola will be the course situs this semester.

LAW-L831 Advanced Torts: Class Actions (Previously under LAW-L826) 2 hrs.
This is a seminar devoted to gaining an understanding of class action and other “mass tort” litigation from both a practical and an academic perspective. This course will cover alternative structures for litigation, class definition, and other pleading issues; discovery; the certification process; and trial and settlement issues.
Prerequisite: LAW-L705 Torts I

LAW-L832 Immigration and Citizenship Law (©) 3 hrs.
This is the foundational immigration law course. It surveys the federal law of immigration and citizenship law. As currently taught it is a course that integrates the study of substantive law with a practice-oriented approach because it uses a case simulation and an administrative appellate brief exercise as the primary evaluation. Students interested in the certificate should try to take this course by the spring of their second year so that they’ve completed it before they sign up for the Immigration Clinic (this is not a requirement, but it can assist the student).

LAW-L835 Natural Resources Law (©) 3 hrs.
Natural resource management presents extremely difficult and contentious issues of law and public policy. Major debates continue to rage over offshore drilling, the protection of biodiversity, and the management of commercial fisheries. This course provides an overview of how our society allocates and regulates the use of several natural resources, including fisheries, wildlife, wetlands, petroleum, and lands of aesthetic beauty such as Yellowstone or Louisiana’s fabled swamps. Students will examine the major federal environmental statutes directed toward conserving natural resources, including the Endangered Species Act and the National Environmental Policy Act. The historical, constitutional, and economic underpinnings of natural resource law will also be addressed.

LAW L836 Real Estate Transactions (#) 3 hrs.
In this course, students will examine fundamental issues in real estate transactions, including financing, contracting, and conveyancing, with a primary focus on commercial transactions. Topics to be covered include the structure of mortgage markets and the regulation of loan transactions; the law governing mortgages and related financing structures (such as installment land contracts and ground leases), including foreclosure and borrower protections; construction finance; suretyship (guaranties and related contracts); recording and lien priorities; contracts for the purchase and sale of real estate; conveyancing issues; and title insurance.

For the Spring 2024 semester only, students completing the course earn one skills credit, once confirmed that the student has successfully completed the course's skills component.

LAW-L838 Oil and Gas Law (@) 3 hrs.
This course involves a specialized study of the nature of interests in oil, gas, and other minerals, including the remedies of the owner against the adjoining landowner and the trespasser, the nature of the mineral contract, sale, and reservation of mineral rights, prescription of mineral rights, and the mineral lease. The course also may include a study of the conservation laws pertaining to minerals and the regulations of the Louisiana Conservation Commissioner and of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, the leasing of state and federal public lands, operating and production agreements, special contractual agreements relative to mineral exploration and development, deviations from standard provisions in mineral leases and instruments creating or conveying mineral servitudes and royalties, and an introduction to some of the special tax problems of owners and producers of minerals. The Louisiana Mineral Code is given coverage in all areas.

LAW-L842 Courts in a Federal System 3 hrs.
This course deals with requirements of Article III of the United States Constitution such as standing, ripeness, and mootness. A major portion of the course is devoted to problems relating to concepts of federalism and comity between the state and federal systems. The class also analyzes the relationship between the branches of the federal government. For example, the extent to which Congress may withdraw jurisdiction from those courts and the power of the court to review actions of co-equal branches are issues receiving attention. The course also offers a review of jurisdiction based on the existence of diversity and a federal question. The course also covers some of the following subjects: the Erie problem, suits against state officials and the state, abstention, injunctions against state proceedings, and review of state court judgments.

There are no prerequisites to this course but it is preferred that students have completed LAW L725 Civil Procedure I and LAW L750 Constitutional Law before taking this course.

NOTE FROM THE PROFESSOR: I want to make this course fit your needs and preferences because we cannot cover the entire Low and Jeffries’ book. With the free supplement, the text is over 1500 pages. I suspect that we will cover between 700 and 850 pages. I definitely want to cover the introductory chapter on Judicial Review and the chapter on 42 U.S.C. § 1983. I pick Section 1983 because it occurs in some many other places in the course. Here are the topics for all of the chapters:

- Introduction–Judicial Review
- Chapter I–Congressional Control of Federal Courts
- Chapter II–Justiciability
- Chapter III–More Justiciability
- Chapter IV–Choice of Law in Federal System
- Chapter V–Power of Federal Courts to Create Federal Law
- Chapter VI–Additional Problems of Federal Jurisdiction (diversity, substance/procedure)
- Chapter VII–Section 1983
- Chapter VIII–Abstention
- Chapter IX–Sovereign Immunity and Eleventh Amendment
- Chapter X–Habeas Corpus

Based on your preferences, I will cover the other chapters. Lawrence Moore, S.J.)

LAW-L844 Administrative Law

3 hrs.

This course focuses on the law and procedures relating to federal agencies. Federal and state administrative agencies affect virtually every aspect of our daily lives. Indeed, the administrative state is sometimes called the “fourth branch” of government. Often invisible to the public, these agencies are responsible for regulating and enforcing laws regarding the environment, national security, food and drugs, labor relations, international trade, telecommunications, intellectual property, and zoning (to name but a few). Knowledge of regulations—and how they are enacted—is essential for practicing attorneys in almost any field.

This course does not focus on the law of any one agency but instead analyzes the procedures and principles common to all federal agencies. Accordingly, students will examine the sources of agencies’ authority (both statutory and constitutional), the limits of their powers, the procedures they must follow in rulemaking and adjudication, and judicial review of agency actions.

LAW-L846 Seminar in Scholarly Writing

3 hrs.

This seminar is open to candidates of the Loyola Law Review, Journal of Public Interest Law, or Maritime Law Journal who are currently writing a comment. Others may enroll with the instructor’s approval. Students enrolled in this seminar will write and edit one substantial comment and, in addition, evaluate and edit the writing of other students. Students will be evaluated on the basis of their research, writing, and editing skills. Instructor approval is required.

LAW-L852 Maritime Personal Injury (previously Admiralty II)

3 hrs.

This course builds on the basic Admiralty I course and develops the requirements for seaman status under the Jones Act, seaman’s remedies, maintenance and cure, the warranty of seaworthiness, Death on the High Seas Act as well as the defenses available. The course also explores the jurisdictional requirements of the Longshore and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act and its incorporation as a remedy under the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act, remedies of maritime employees, and obligations of maritime employers. In addition, students will learn the administrative process of the Longshore Act.

LAW-L864 Admiralty I is a preferred but not mandatory prerequisite.
LAW-L859 Regulation of Sports Industry Seminar
2 hrs.
This course will consider the response of the legal system to the particular problems of the sports industry. Coverage includes contractual obligations in professional sports, antitrust laws, regulation of agents, sports violence, labor relations and collective bargaining in professional sports, arbitration, professional sports franchise relocation, the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the regulation of intercollegiate sports, regulation of amateur sports, gender and racial discrimination in athletics, and drug testing.

LAW-L862 Criminal Law Seminar: White Collar Crime
2 hrs.
This course is designed for students with an interest in advanced criminal law practice, particularly the growing legal field of white-collar crime. This seminar course will introduce students to the substantive law of white-collar crime, as well as the practice, procedure, and strategy concerning federal white-collar criminal investigations and prosecutions. Topics include the definition of and theory behind white collar crime; grand jury law and practice; corporate criminality; prosecutorial discretion; plea bargaining; grants of immunity, privileges, and other common defenses; charging decisions and drafting of indictments; sentencing and the goals of punishment; and substantive law topics including conspiracy, mail and wire fraud, RICO, money laundering, and forfeiture. In addition to learning the substantive law, students will focus on the practical skills required to be an effective white-collar crime practitioner. Students will discuss the theory and background of the U.S. Sentencing Guidelines in detail, and then spend time learning how the Guidelines are applied in white-collar cases. Students will have several guest speakers during the semester, including a federal prosecutor, a member of the judiciary, and other white-collar defense practitioners.

LAW-L871 Advanced Federal Income Tax
2 hrs.
This course consists of an advanced study of federal income taxation emphasizing planning considerations affecting the personal and commercial transactions of individual taxpayers.
Prerequisite: LAW-L980 Income Taxation

LAW-L873 Taxation of Partnerships and Other Pass-through Entities
3 hrs.
This course involves a study of the tax treatment of the formation, operation, and termination of pass-through entities including partnerships, limited liability companies, and subchapter S corporations. Class discussion will focus on the study of the Internal Revenue Code and Regulations and solving problems a taxpayer must deal with in practice.
Prerequisite: LAW-L980 Income Taxation

LAW-L875 State and Local Taxation (@)
2 hrs.
This course considers the varieties of taxation imposed by state and local governments including property taxes, business taxes, sales and use taxes, and the various exemptions. Tulane and Loyola students are invited to register. Tulane will be the course situs this semester, and students will follow the Tulane Law calendar.
Prerequisite LAW-L980 Income Taxation has been waived by the instructor for this term.

LAW-L877(-001) Con Law Seminar: Comparative Constitutional Law
1 hr.
This course approaches Comparative Constitutional Law from a qualitative and foundational perspective. The goal is to consider certain constitutional issues that really matter, to try to understand them better and to explore their potential strengths and weaknesses—for which purposes a natural law perspective will be preferred (without prejudice to others). If that is the goal, it is not about how many jurisdictions one picks for this comparative venture; it is about how much one can learn from those selected. In other words, it is not so much about the quantity of comparisons as it is about having a topic deserving to be compared on account of its worth and relevance. The U.S. Constitution will be the permanent point of reference for the several comparisons; structural matters will receive more attention than those immediately concerning rights. The topics to be analyzed will include the concept of normativity, the natural law foundations of comparative constitutionalism, federalism, judicial review, mixed jurisdictions, and the restriction of property rights during emergencies.

- This is a two-week course held on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays, January 12-25, 2024.

LAW-L877(-002) Con Law Seminar: Constitutional Protections of Corp’s 2 hrs.
The protections afforded corporations by the Constitution have been an issue for the Supreme Court from the Marshall era forward. This course explores various approaches the United States Supreme Court has taken up to the Citizens United decision. This will include discussions comparing the Court’s approach to African-Americans; the distinctions made between liberty rights and property rights in the Lochner era, and how Footnote 4 of Justice Stone’s Carolene Products opinion may have led to Citizens United.

LAW-L877(-051) Con Law Sem: Sexual Orientation, Gender Identity, & the Law 3 hrs.
In the last 40 years, relatively rapid changes in the law have dramatically affected the lives of lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender people. As recently as 1986, the Supreme Court held that the Constitution permitted states to criminalize homosexual conduct. Lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender individuals were frequently denied custody or visitation rights, and only a few U.S. jurisdictions provided legal protections from discrimination in employment, public accommodations, or housing. Yet by 2015, the Supreme Court had held that the Constitution requires states to recognize same-sex marriage, and in 2020 the Court further held that Title VII protects individuals from employment discrimination based on sexual orientation or transgender status. This seminar will examine the developments in the law that affect people who identify as LGBTQ and will examine how the state regulates the conduct and lives of individuals with differing sexual orientations and gender identities.

During the course, students will discuss:
- the definition of sexual orientation, gender identity, and other terms often used to describe members of the LGBTQ community;
- constitutional jurisprudence regarding substantive due process, the right to privacy, and the Equal Protection Clause;
- First Amendment claims by persons seeking to assert an LGBTQ identity as well as First Amendment protections for individuals expressing objections to homosexuality or transgender status;
- relevant statutory anti-discrimination protections;
- the law governing state recognition of gay and lesbian couples and marriage; and
- current developments in family law that affect LGBTQ individuals, including laws regarding adoption and parenting, assisted reproductive technology, and surrogacy.
LAW L879 Admiralty Seminar: Intro to International Law of the Sea
1 hr.
The course is to introduce students to the division of the sea into maritime zones, the rights of the riparian States and other States within the zones, the principle of delimitation and establishing the baseline of a riparian State, what is meant by innocent passage, freedom navigation, and overflight. The class will explore the definition of island under the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea (UNCLOS) and discuss the international issues in the South China Sea and the basis of the conflict. In addition, the course will explore piracy under UNCLOS, the concept of universal jurisdiction and U.S. jurisdiction under the Constitution for prosecution for piracy (as well as recent jurisprudence on piracy). The class will examine the distinction between piracy and terrorism under international law, U.S. jurisdiction for transportation of illegal substances on the high seas and enforcement of the Marine Pollution Convention and London Protocol and principles of international law. Time permitting, students will be introduced to the International Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Arbitral Awards (the New York Convention) in international maritime matters.

LAW-L880 Entrepreneurship (* #)
3 hrs.
This primarily experiential course pairs third-year law students with (1) mentors in the New Orleans legal community who practice corporate law, with an emphasis on early-stage ventures, and (2) early-stage ventures, both for-profit and non-profit, who are in need of legal service. Under the supervision of mentors, students will prepare basic transactional legal documentation for early-stage ventures in the local community. Enrollment is limited and preference is given to students who have successfully completed Business Planning (LAW-L867) and/or Contract Drafting (LAW-L843). Enrollment requires applying for the course and Professor approval.
Prerequisite: LAW-L746 Business Organizations I
* Students completing the course earn three hours of experiential learning credits.
Students completing the course earn one skills credit.

1 hr.
This course will focus on dispute resolution issues with an emphasis on domestic relations through interactive class participation. An examination of emotional, physiological, legal, and structural issues in the court system will address the neuroscience of how we make decisions and the specific impact on domestic relations disputes. This is a pass/fail course.
- This is a four-week pass/fail course held on four Fridays, January 12, 2024 – February 2, 2024.

LAW-L896(-051) Professional Seminar: Privacy Law (@)
2 hrs.
Privacy issues now take center stage in corporate America with many companies now maintaining a CPO- Chief Privacy Officer. Compliance requires knowledge of several federal and many state statutes, and regulatory regimes as well as knowledge of privacy issues imposed from across the Atlantic by the EU. This seminar will address the following topics: Big Data, financial privacy, FCRA, GLBA, FTC privacy and security regulation; Identity theft, online behavioral advertising; First Amendment limitations on privacy regulation; Data breaches, data breach notification statutes; Privacy of video watching and media consumptions; CFAA, enforcement of privacy policies, marketing use of data, and more.

@ APPROVED ELECTIVE FOR FULL-TIME 1L STUDENTS
(New Format Spring 2024)

This course is composed of two parts. The first will be a series of lectures addressing some of the most complex and frequently misunderstood rules of evidence, as well as evidence laws and procedures not contained in the rules themselves, and how this law can be applied to typical trial scenarios so that the students can use this knowledge to their advantage in their future trial practices. The second part will follow the evidence section and will be experiential. Each student will conduct a brief deposition and will present a direct trial examination and trial cross-examination based on a complex fact pattern. The students will be expected to employ the evidentiary rules and techniques learned in the first session, including objections to be made.

Prerequisites: LAW-L740 Evidence and LAW-L961 Trial Advocacy
* Students completing the course earn two hours of experiential learning credits.
Students completing the course earn one skills credit.

LAW L896(-053) Prof. Seminar: The Intersection of Law, Policy & Politics (@) 2 hrs.

This course is a public law course designed to introduce students to the ways in which the law informs, impacts, and intersects with governmental and political decision-making. This interdisciplinary course will provide a broad overview of legal concepts that arise in the public policy and electoral arenas, with a tour of topical executive, legislative, and judicial branch subjects that arise at the federal, state, and local levels. The goal of the course is to provide students with the practical knowledge necessary to utilize their law degree to effect change in government by creating policy and shaping the political process.

LAW-L897 Clinical Seminar – Live Client Clinic (* # †) 5 hrs.

Students participate in clinic orientation before the start of classes, after which they are sworn in to practice law as a Student Practitioner under the supervision of a Clinic Professor. Clinic students are assigned civil or criminal cases with jurisdiction in municipal, state, federal, and/or administrative courts. Student Practitioners are expected to represent clients from the point of their case assignment through final disposition or the end of the course, whichever comes first. Representation includes but is not limited to, client interviews, fact investigation, informal and formal discovery, drafting and filing of pleadings, legal research, writing of fact and legal memoranda, communications with opposing counsel, court appearances, including trial and appellate work, and law office management. Student Practitioners must devote a minimum of 15 hours per week to clinic class and casework in this course.

Standard participation is two full semesters during the fall and spring semesters of the 3L year; however, certain sections of the Law Clinic are offered for one semester only. For each semester of Law Clinic that a student successfully completes, he or she will earn five credit hours (letter-graded), five hours of experiential learning credits, four skills credits (satisfying all of the required categories if taken for two semesters), and satisfy the Law and Poverty Requirement.

Prerequisite: LAW-L770 Lawyering III (Ethics)
* Students completing the course earn five hours of experiential learning credits.
Beginning Fall 2023, all students completing the course earn four skills credits per semester, satisfying all of the required categories if taken in two semesters.
† This course satisfies the Law and Poverty Requirement.
LAW-L900 Academic Externship (* #) 1 or 2 or 3 hrs.
This experiential course allows students to earn credit for legal work performed while placed with a government agency, legal non-profit, or court. Second- and third-year law students in the upper three-quarters of their class and in good standing may apply to participate in this program. Students must receive an offer from a qualifying placement and instructor approval to enroll. This course cannot be used to satisfy the writing requirement. This is a pass/fail course with a regular classroom component. The extern must be willing to devote at least 60 hours of work per credit hour during the semester to this course. Applying for the course and Instructor approval are required to register.
* Students completing the course earn experiential learning credits equivalent to the credit hours earned in the course.
Students completing the course earn one skills credit.
Under no circumstances can a student elect any combination of course numbers LAW-L891, LAW-L893, LAW-L898, or LAW-L901 that would result in more than six hours. Also, under no circumstances may a student elect any combination of course numbers LAW-L898, LAW-L899, and LAW-L900 that would result in more than six hours.

LAW-L902 Elder and Disabled Law (@) 2 hrs.
This seminar is devoted to the introduction of a variety of topics that impact the elderly, the disabled, and their families. The course will cover topics such as power of attorney, interdiction, capacity, elder abuse, geriatric care management, nursing home rights, end-of-life care, and successions.

LAW-L906 Advanced Legal Research (* #) 3 hrs.
This practical, skills-based course is designed to help prepare students for practice or future study by building on the research techniques presented in Lawyering I. Advanced Legal Research focuses on the effective use of electronic and print legal research tools and examines existing sources for both legal and non-legal information of interest to lawyers. Students will receive advanced training on comprehensive proprietary online research systems (Westlaw, Lexis, and Bloomberg Law), and be introduced to specialized online systems (ProQuest, BNA, and CCH Intelliconnect). This course will provide coverage of selected research subjects, including statutory research, legislative history, administrative and regulatory research, practice aids, research strategies, and various specialized areas, such as an introduction to international/foreign research sources. The focus is on the practical application of research resources in various areas, for instance compiling a legislative history, drafting a comment to a regulation, or compiling a company profile. Assessment is based on five experiential learning exercises and a final project, and students should be prepared to present their work in a professional format (both orally and in writing).
* Students completing the course earn three hours of experiential learning credits.
Students completing the course earn one skills credit.

This course explores key legal and regulatory concepts and issues impacting the delivery of healthcare in the United States. Topic areas will include, but are not limited to, state and federal regulation of health care providers and institutions including the Stark Law, and the Federal Anti-Kickback Statute, patient and provider rights and obligations, public and private insurance systems including the history of Medicare and Medicaid; business and legal issues that arise in the provision of healthcare including a detailed look at the regulatory environment surrounding any healthcare provider; and a detailed discussion of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act. The course will examine, as a whole, the healthcare industry and the relevant laws and regulations that govern its operation from two very different perspectives – the physician's perspective and the hospital's perspective.

_There are no prerequisites to this course but it is preferred that students have completed LAW-L807 Introduction to Health Law._

LAW-L914 Healthcare Compliance
3 hrs.
This course explores the laws and regulations that govern the provision of healthcare in the United States and the compliance programs to ensure safe care. Students will be introduced to the elements of an effective compliance program and the challenges in providing safe, high-quality, compliant healthcare.

LAW-L915 Healthcare Fraud and Abuse Law (New Course Spring 2024) [@]
3 hrs.
In this specialized course tailored for aspiring lawyers, students are immersed in the intricate legal landscape surrounding fraudulent and abusive practices within the healthcare sector. As global healthcare expenditures rise, protecting the system against unethical behaviors becomes paramount. This course provides a deep dive into the statutes, regulations, and case laws that frame and combat healthcare fraud and abuse, including foundational statutes like the False Claims Act, the Anti-Kickback Statute, the Stark Law, and corresponding federal and state regulations. Students will benefit from real-world case studies, gaining insights into landmark decisions and their subsequent implications. The curriculum also guides students through nuanced legal interpretations of terms such as "fraud," "abuse," and "kickbacks"; the enforcement mechanisms spearheaded by agencies like the Department of Justice and the Office of Inspector General; defensive strategies like internal audits and risk assessments for healthcare entities; and the ethical considerations lawyers must navigate in this domain. Emphasis is also placed on emerging trends in healthcare fraud, especially in the context of digital advancements such as electronic health records and telemedicine in the context of fraud and abuse.

LAW-L922 Toxic Torts [@]
3 hrs.
This course will study the characteristic features of toxic tort litigation, such as the temporal separation between wrongful conduct and the appearance of injury, novel issues of medical causation, property valuation, environmental restoration, and hazard assessment, and the difficulty of fashioning remedies. The impact of these core problems on doctrinal, procedural, and evidentiary matters will be explored.

LAW-L934 Detention and Removal Defense [@]
2 hrs.

LAW-L974 Advanced Legal Research: Community-Based Research Lab (* #)  3 hrs.
(New Course Spring 2024)
This course will introduce students to advanced legal research for use in policy advocacy, utilizing Participatory Action Research, a community-based relational research model utilized in the social sciences, as a basis for community lawyering, advocacy, and organizing. Students will have an opportunity to see community-based research in action, supporting the Professor in conducting research based upon collaboration with community partners. Students will have real-world examples from which to identify a primary need, challenge, or opportunity, from which to develop a research plan. Community leaders and advocates often struggle to identify the legal and regulatory barriers, and opportunities, related to their goals. Students will learn how to identify the legal and regulatory components of the identified topic, conduct research, and help design an advocacy strategy and theory of change. This lab will teach students how to engage in democratic change processes, apply legal skills to community-based problems, and collaboratively design research and advocacy strategies. Space is very limited - usually up to ten (10) students. Enrollment requires applying for the course and Professor approval (email agjeroll@loyno.edu).
* Students completing the course earn three hours of experiential learning credits.
Students completing the course earn one skills credit.
